STOCKHOLDERS HOLD SPECIAL MEETING, ELECT NEW DIRECTORS TO GDC BOARD

by Al Skolnik

After much maneuvering, Greenbelt Homes, Inc. last week finally unraveled its tangled affairs with respect to Greenbelt Development Corporation, operator of the Parkway apartments. At a special meeting of GDC stockholders on July 18, it was decided that the board of directors of GHI represents the GDC stockholders and the majority decisions of such board will determine how the stock is to be voted.

As its first action, the GDC stockholders voted 5-2 to remove the entire present GDC board of directors without prejudice. (The present GDC board consists of Harry Zubkoff, Frank Lastner, Henry Brautigam, Bill Helm, Joe Cherry, Charles Schwan, and Bernie Bordenet.)

This action was advocated by Zubkoff in order to clear the way for the election of a new board. He pointed out that the election of the GDC board last March was "morally reprehensible" since it went counter to the custom and intent of GHI to have such elections follow the annual elections to the GHI board.

In past years the GDC election date was postponed until after the GHI annual meeting in May. (The GHI by-laws were changed in 1960 to move the annual election from March to May, but through inadvertence, a similar change in the GDC by-laws was overlooked.) At the time of the March GDC election the majority, consisting of Bordenet, Helm, Cherry, and Allen Morrison, refused to consider a plea to postpone the GDC elections until after the GHI election.

In reply to Zubkoff, Helm and Cherry asserted that the March election was legal and in accordance with the by-laws and they dissented to the otherwise unanimous action of the stockholders to remove the entire GDC board.

Following the removal of the GDC board, the stockholders elected the current GHI board as the GDC board, with one exception. Harry Zubkoff declined election. Bordenet was nominated to take his place, but he declined also. The stockholders decided to leave the post vacant for the present.

In effect, the action of the stockholders was to add the names of Hans Jorgensen, John O'Reilly and Ed Burgoon to the GDC board.

The remainder of the stockholders' meeting was devoted to an examination of the GDC by-laws with the aim of clarifying the relationship between GDC and GHI, revising the annual meeting date of the stockholders, reducing the number of board meetings, revising the functions of the GDC board and officers, and denoting the method by which the GDC by-laws may be amended.

Citizens wishing to register to vote in the forthcoming city elections may do so Monday through Friday at the city offices from 8 to 4:30 p.m. Special hours for those who cannot register during the day will be Friday, August 9, and 16 from 6 to 9 p.m. and Saturday August 10 and 17 from 9 to 12 a.m. August 19 is the deadline for voter registration and for filing nomination papers.

The city clerk has prepared a list of voters registered as of July 16. Copies of the list may be obtained from the City Clerk's Office.

FESTIVAL PLANNERS MEET

Meeting of Greenbelt Festival Committee to be held Tuesday, July 30, at 8 p.m. in Social Room of GHI.

All organizations to which letters have been sent requesting representatives to serve on the committee are urged to have some one present.

The Annual Youth Festival dates will be August 30 and 31 and September 1 and 2.

City Council Schedules Three Special Meetings

The city council will have one of its busiest schedules of the year next week with three special meetings on items of major concern to the community.

On Monday at 8 p.m. the council will again consider the Boxwood rezoning petition, with the public invited to participate in the discussion. The Advisory Planning Board is expected to make recommendations to the council concerning the new subdivision site plan.

On Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. engineers employed by the city to study the reconstruction of the swimming pool will present their report, with the public invited to present their views. It is expected that the city will hold referendum to float a bond to finance the cost of reconstruction.

On Thursday at 8 p.m. a member of the Park and Planning Commission is expected to discuss with the council and all interested citizens the Prince Georges County master development plan now in preparation. This will be an opportunity for the city and its residents to express their ideas on what should go into the master plan.

Three Incumbents File For Council Elections

The city council election, scheduled for September 17, got off to a fast start last week with the filing of nomination petitions for three candidates. The candidates—Francis W. White, 42 Lakeside Drive, Richard R. Pilski, 6 Orange Court, and William R. Phillips, 3-D Ridge Road—are all incumbents of the present council.

Additional citizens desiring to become candidates for the five-man council must file petitions containing at least 39 and not more than 65 names of qualified registered voters at the city clerk's office (together with a $3 filing fee). The deadline for filing is August 19.

A voter may sign only one nominating petition, even though he may vote for five candidates. Petition forms may be obtained from the city clerk's office, or a candidate may use his own form. The city clerk will check the petition for valid signatures and disqualify a voter's signature on the second and all subsequent petitions she receives on which it appears. Married women are asked to sign petitions as Mary Doe, not Mrs. John Doe.

The biographies of the candidates follow:

WHITE

White, in his first attempt at public office in 1961, received the top councilman vote and was elected mayor of Greenbelt. Born in 1922 in Montgomery County, he attended public schools in Washington, D. C. Following 3½ years of duty as a crew member of a Naval Patrol Bomber, he was admitted to the University of Maryland.

City Council Notes

by Charles T. McDonald

A Resolution to amend the City Charter to provide for a Classified Service for the employees of the City of Greenbelt was passed at the continuation meeting of council on July 9. The amendment clearly spells out the positions or appointments that are exempted and those that are classified. Classified positions (those employees hired by the city manager) have permanent status after a probationary period.

In another Resolution to amend the City Charter the procedures to appeal to the newly ordained Employees Relation Board are spelled out. This Resolution is #754 having to do with the Responsibilities of the Manager, which restricts discrimination in appointments because of political or religious opinions or affiliations, but has no reference to race or color.

An Ordinance was passed providing for a Personnel Advisory Board consisting of five members to be appointed by Council for three year terms.

The subject of a Fire Detection System in the new Municipal Building was referred to the City Manager for estimates of cost and recommendation.

The method of establishing a rate for assessing Center Property Owners for maintaining the Mall was referred to the Manager and the Solicitor for future reports.

At the request of Councilman Phillips, the subject of enlarging and improving the municipal swimming pool was discussed on the basis of getting the subject on a Revenue Producing Bond Issue ballot at the September election. A public meeting will be held on Tuesday, July 30 to consider cost estimates for the improvement.

Arts and Crafts Meeting

The Arts and Crafts Guild will hold a meeting Friday evening at 8 p.m. in the Twin Pines Savings and Loan Association. Plans for future exhibits will be discussed. All members and interested persons are urged to attend. For information call David C. Young, 474-9433.

Library Closes for Repairs

The Greenbelt Library will be closed for the remainder of the week in order to permit repainting of the interior, according to librarian Margaret Paris. This will complete the refurbishing of the local library, including the installation of air conditioning. Regular library hours will resume Monday.

Council Delays Boxwood Decision In Response to Pleas of Citizens

by Russ Greenbaum

Faced with strong pleas from Lewis Bernstein, chairman of the Advisory Planning Board, and other citizens attending, that a decision be delayed because of the short notice involved, the city council at a special meeting Monday night agreed to postpone action on the Boxwood rezoning petition until July 29. The APB will meet this week to consider the newly revised site plan for the development, which will consist of more than 200 homes ranging in price from $19,000 to $22,000, and present its recommendations at next Monday's meeting.

The discussion, which lasted for three hours and saw tempers flare sharply at times, centered principally around whether the council was making proper and full use of the APB and giving citizens an opportunity to be heard fully on matters involving the development of the city. It was noted that the Boxwood zoning request is the first of 44 zoning petitions involving Greenbelt to be heard in the coming months.

Short Notice

The petition, which had been filed with the city on May 6 by Charles Bresler, developer of Boxwood, requests that a strip of RR-zoned land extending largely down the center of the tract be rezoned to R-55 to conform with the rest of the development. It was not until last week, however, that the city suddenly learned that the Boxwood petition would be heard by the county commissioners at their zoning hearing on August 6 and that the Park and Planning Commission had therefore scheduled the matter for consideration at its meeting of July 24 (yesterday). Mayor Francis White indicated that this was the result of a new system of accelerating the handling of the large number of zoning requests the county now has.

Council was not able to meet with Bresler to discuss his zoning request until last Thursday night. At that meeting, which was held in executive session, it was decided to call a special meeting for Monday night so that council could forward its recommendation to the Park and Planning Commission before that body reviewed the zoning request and submitted its recommendation to the County Commissioners. It was then too late to announce the special meeting in the News Review, but notices were posted in the Center.

What concerned Bernstein and also the several citizens present at the meeting was not the request to remove the RR zoning (which would be difficult to enforce since there are no metes and bounds defining it) but the fact that the final subdivision site plan for Boxwood was being revealed for the first time. The plan had not been filed with the zoning petition on May 6, and council had not seen it before Thursday.

In its report on the preliminary site plan last September, the APB had recommended that the council not give its approval of the plan to the Park and Planning Commission until several "deficiencies" had been corrected. In view of this, Bernstein argued that the APB should be given an opportunity to study the new plan and advise the council on whether the defects had been sufficiently corrected.

Revised Plan

City manager James Giese reported on the three major items concerning the new plan that came out of the meeting with Bresler. The developer said that if he could get the RR section rezoned to R-55, he would then dedicate to the city a large strip of land, varying in width from 70 to 200 feet, as a buffer between Boxwood and Lakewood. Giese noted, however, that the land could not be used for recreational purposes since it is largely a hilly slope.

Bresler also reveals that he now plans to build homes facing on Ridge Road extended, at present a rutted dirt road that leads past the water tower and on to Edmonston Road. The homes will run from the 73 court of Ridge to the water tower, and he will pave a 36-foot roadway in front of them. Mayor White noted that Garvin and Martin will pave the other end of this road since it borders on their planned town house development. This will leave about a thousand feet of Ridge in the middle which the city will have to pave to make it a through street. Since part of the right-of-way crosses property long owned by Mrs. Nell Furey, the city will either have to negotiate purchase of the land or obtain it through county condemnation action.

Bresler was adamant in refusing to provide a recreational area in the center of his development, claiming that it would be difficult to sell homes bordering such an area. He did indicate he might consider a land swap with McDonald Field (the Little League field) to provide a recreation area on land adjacent to Boxwood.

Planners Note Density

Bernstein said that one of primary concerns of the APB was the maximum density of the development (number of homes per acre) and that the new plan did not appear to improve it. He noted that the purpose of the RR-zoned strip was to limit the density and prevent a "broad-sweeping" type of development. Mayor White reported that the developer had pointed out that by eliminating the RR-zoned strip he could allow trees to remain and would not have to "blade" or denude the land, an expensive procedure that might be needed if the RR zoning remained.

The present subdivision plan calls for 208 homes. However, a ten-acre section in the southeast corner has been marked out as a shopping center site if Bresler can obtain commercial zoning, one of the zoning petitions now pending. If this is turned down, Bresler will put in from 22 to 25 more homes in this section.

Bernstein also called attention to the potential traffic problem. Since the Ridge Road homes were likely to be among the last to be built, he argued, all Boxwood traffic would flow into Crescent Road. Even after Ridge Road is paved, he stated, Crescent Road, which will also carry Springhill Lake traffic, will be a heavily traveled artery. This will present a problem the city will have to solve.

Council accepted Bernstein's suggestion that Bresler's agreement to put in part of Ridge Road and to dedicate land to the city, which he has submitted in writing to the city, be made legally binding. The city solicitor will be consulted on the best way to do this, probably by filing the agreement with his subdivision plat.

School Problem Raised

Lowell Owens, one of the citizens who urged the council to make no decision at this time, raised the question of a school site. Mayor White said that the county board of education had studied the matter and had decided that a third school did not yet have to be planned. It is assumed that the North End School will be enlarged, a project for which land is available. When he inquired about the safety of children walking to school, he was informed that all streets in Boxwood would have sidewalks.

Bernstein pointed out that the council could have avoided its present bind if it had followed the

MORE HARM THAN GOOD

To the Editor:

I have been reading the letters in this paper concerning the anti-loitering law. The letter in your July 11 edition whose name was withheld brought to my attention a lot of things.

For example, "Greenbelt is well known from Cumberland to Annapolis, as a city with a bad teenage and post teenage reputation." I know for a fact that Greenbelt has a bad reputation, BUT, its reputation isn't even half as bad as it was six or seven years ago. As a matter of fact, Greenbelt has a good reputation compared to some of the other towns in this vicinity. I think someone was exaggerating. Greenbelt is a town with human beings in it, not a military camp. We should be treated like human beings, not soldiers.

The reason most of the trouble in Greenbelt occurs is not just the fault of Greenbelt Youth. In fact, when trouble does occur, 75 per cent of the time it involves out-of-towners. I have seen on various occasions boys from out-of-town here just looking for trouble.

I recall one night when approximately 25 to 30 youths were congregated on the hill by the bowling alley. There were no obscene or vandalistic acts made at this time. In fact an officer of the Greenbelt Police Department was among them. This has occurred more than once! Is there anything so terribly wrong with that?

If the anti-loitering law goes into effect, we guarantee that this will make things worse instead of better. This is by no means a threat; that is what will happen. Everyone thinks that Greenbelt teenagers are so "sneaky", and so "bad". What is "sneaky" about congregating in the center when the police station is located right there? The teenagers are congregating right in the middle of the center of activity. If the law goes through the teenagers will congregate elsewhere.

We think this law will do more harm than good.

This letter has been written by people who know how teenagers think.

APPRECIATION

"SHREWD BUT RUDE"

To the Editor:

Last week's News Review contained a letter by Mr. Bowman, an official of the American Civil Liberties Union, written in a reasonable tone with no hint of personal ridicule or scorn and which is appreciated although I disagree with his statements.

As for the letter by the citizen sponsoring the ACLU before City Council, as an act of kindness I will clear up the confusion in his mind.

Any ordinance under discussion by Council and Greenbelt Citizens is for the government of, and the concern of, the residents of Greenbelt. It is not for outsiders of either Washington or any other city, whether it be individuals or organizations, to come before us and discuss the merits of any ordinance. Outside expert advice, if necessary, may be requested by Council, such as the reference to dogs and cats, but it was not EXPERT nor was it ADVICE that was presented by the ACLU representative, but a pompous pronouncement, (prepared and printed long before the Council meeting and distributed to a select few), that the ordinance under discussion was unconstitutional. That outfit does not have the right, not even at the request of a confused citizen, to appear before Council and declare anything unconstitutional! It is for our Courts to decide the constitutionality of any legislative matter. The Judicial system of our government renders decisions without any ALLY! There is no official standing for the ACLU. It has presented itself as a "friend of the court" in its many actions defending anti-American elements, purveyors of pornographic and lewd literature and movies and the anti-religion elements in our society but that doesn't make it an instrument of government. Liberty does not entitle licentiousness! That outfit has the right to defend in court any violation of a Greenbelt ordinance but it is not entitled to appear before Council and lobby against an ordinance by proclaiming it unconstitutional. (That is not advice but insidious infiltration of our local governmental affairs.)

A good example of the ACLU philosophy is the present court case in California in which that outfit is attempting to have the words "UNDER GOD" torn from our Oath of Allegiance. (This action has produced a number of resignations from the ACLU ranks proving its controversial nature even in its own ranks.) Or the rush to defend the 12 Black Muslim government employees discharged by the United States Civil Service Commission for reservations in their oath of allegiance. As a loyal Government Research Scientist of 27 years service I applaud this act of the U. S. Government.

The citizen-writer of printed abuse and ridicule played it shrewdly, yes, shrewdly but also rudely. Notice how he would offer a compliment and then use the knife of scorn, ridicule and abuse! Shrewd but rude. A bald attempt to deny me free speech for fear of his printed vilifications!

This citizen made a 20 minute (I timed it) speech after Council agreed to hear his so-called attorney, the ACLU representative. (Deceitful because his so-called attorney presented the ACLU proclamation, not the arguments of the citizen-sponsor.) In this speech he stated: "I am even disgusted that Council would listen to this objection." The citizen piously states his fight for civil liberties but for himself only, demanding that Council deny my right to free speech because "the effrontery of it all" I dared to oppose him, to object to his views! Civil liberties for him, yes, but not for those that disagree with him!

The citizen-writer is wrong in stating that it is my intention to impute subversive activity into the action of the ACLU or any individual. However there may be subversive elements in the ACLU. I do not know since I am not a member, nor do I wish to be, of that outfit. I remind the citizen that there are no nationally prominent figures as members of that outfit. I have read of no fine, fine Americans being members of that outfit. But there are millions and millions of fine Americans that do not belong to that outfit nor do they agree with it!

Abusing persons with opposing viewpoints by printed invective and revilements, such as victimized, psychotic, hysterical, distorted truth, defamatory, ad nauseum, does not obfuscate the illegitimacy of the ACLU's attempt to appropriate the right of proclaiming unconstitutional any ordinance under discussion in our Council Hall, regardless of the merits of that ordinance. The vivid abusive adjectives and invoking the name of the Deity, the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, the names of ex-presidents, John Birch Society, the "radical far, far left" (the kitchen sink), exposes your attempt to deny me the right of free speech for fear of your printed abuse. The hysterical, psychotic letter is not mine.

Citizen-writer, my opinions are my own and are determined thru a thorough daily review of current events and influenced greatly by an infinite belief in God, in my Country, the United States of America, in our present form of government (the finest), and in plain old-fashioned Fourth-of-July patriotism!

Fees Must Now Accompany License Tag Applications

John R. Jewell, Maryland's Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, reminds motorists that since June 1, 1963 applications for license tags to be mailed from the Department must include fees to cover postage.

The new fee resulted from enactment of House Bill 1115 by the recent session of the Maryland General Assembly calling for "prepayment of postage for mailing registration plates".

The postage rate was established as 14 cents for mailing trailer tags and 6 cents for motorcycle plates. Applications for all passenger cars and truck plates must include 26 cents for mailing of tags.

PATS AND PANS

To the Editor:

As a recent newcomer to Greenbelt, I read with great interest the Greenbelt News Review. The citizens of Greenbelt have reason to be proud of their community despite the existing difficulty with "troublemakers and out of town gangs." The friendliness and helpfulness of the people is heartwarming. The wide range of activities makes Greenbelt a most desirable place to live.

Of particular interest and pleasure to my family are the competently staffed County Library, swimming pool and swimming classes, the free tennis and archery lessons, and the daily arts and crafts classes held at the Youth Center. As a homemaker, I find it both convenient and timesaving to shop, visit the bank and to purchase postal supplies all in one trip to the Center.

What has been disturbing is the lack of pride in the appearance of the streets, underpasses and community lawns. They point up a sharp contrast to the many attractive gardens and well-groomed lawns.

Is there really any excuse for the tipped over, rusted grocery carts (I counted 3 in a 5 minute walk), the cigarette, gum, and candy wrappers, the newspapers, paper cups, paper bags beer cans and endless broken bottles? This litter is ironic in a community with garbage pick-up three times a week. It's true someone is hired to clean the litter but the job is a community job as well.

Who is to blame — what can be done? The local "troublemakers and out of town gangs aren't the only ones responsible. Adult citizens are guilty as well, some by actual practice, others by their indifferent attitude.

If each adult of the community set the example of NOT being a LITTERBUG and seriously discussed and enforced this habit in their family, the appearance and morale of the community would show great improvement. Orderliness, neatness, and respect for public property must be taught and practiced at home.

Installation of more litter baskets, particularly some attached to the walls outside the swimming pool and the walls of the underpasses would make the task easier.

Skunk Seen, Shunned Soon Stopped, Slain

Despite the stifling heat, North End residents closed doors and windows by the dozen last Thursday when a belligerent skunk made an evening raid on Hillside road. "Spike," a Boston Bull residing at 22-A Hillside, discovered the skunk loitering in his yard, dutifully attacked, and was unquestionably defeated. Spike is now the cleanest dog in Greenbelt.

Bursting with success, the polecat then tried to take on a passing vehicle on Ridge Road with fatal results. What happened to the unidentified driver is unknown but it is hoped that it was not a Greenbelt resident.

Sgt. Green Accepts Parade Marshall Job

Sgt. Austin R. Green, veteran Police Officer of Greenbelt, has once more been commissioned to act as Parade Marshall and Chairman of the 9th Annual Labor Day Festival Parade to be held on September 2, 1963.

Sgt. Green began donating his services back in 1947 when Mayor Allen Morrison and Chief of Police George Panagoulis appointed him Parade Marshall for the first Annual Parade which was held on July 4th of that year. From that day in 1947 to the present, some 16 years later, Sgt. Green has each year been given the same assignment for the Annual Parades. He was Parade Marshall for the years 1948 and 1949 when the Greenbelt Band put on the 4th of July parades. The following 5 years the annual parade was in charge of the Boys Club, for which he was chairman, the year after that the Greenbelt Volunteer Fire Dept. and Rescue Squad were given the Parade assignment, and again requested that Green be the Marshall.

This year, when he was asked again to act as Parade Chairman for the Labor Day Festival, he told the committee he could not handle it again as it required too much time, effort and so forth. But Sgt. Green learned that the committee had tried for two months to find someone to do the job, and was unable to come up with anyone. He agreed, therefore, to do it again so that the city could have a parade. "I've been drafted," he told the News Review. "I had to win, as my name was the only one in the goldfish bowl!"

To date, Sgt. Green has sent out 275 letters to various groups and organizations to get entries in this year's Festival Parade. "I have received 25 affirmative replies, hardly enough to put on a good show," he pointed out. "I sincerely hope this year we can have some of our local organizations place an entry in the line of march."

Charles L. Wright, Inspector of Traffic, Metropolitan Police Dept., will be the Judge for the Parade.

Dreith to Preach Sunday

Rear Admiral J. Floyd Dreith, Chief of Chaplains, U. S. Navy, will deliver the sermon at Holy Cross Lutheran Church this Sunday, July 28. He will speak at both the 8:30 and the 11 a.m. services. His theme will be "Iron Can Swim."

Chaplain Dreith conducted the memorial service for the men who went down with the atomic sub "Thresher" last April.

CITY NOTES

City Manager James Giese reports the City Public Works Department has been working in Lakewood finishing the asphalt surfacing of pathways running from the ends of Greendale, Greenway and Fayette to Parkland. They are also bridging the ditch with remnants of the catwalks from the sewage treatment plant.

Ronald Taylor, 8-K Laue Hill, has been appointed to serve as part time police officer. The 1963-64 budget provides for an additional policeman. The manager is currently reviewing applications for this position. Mr. Taylor will serve until a permanent appointment is made. He will then be on call to serve part time, if needed, as he had been doing previously.

Work on the municipal building is progressing this week. The contractor has erected the steel structural framework for the first floor and roof. Brickwork up to the first floor is nearing completion. Pepco has been doing utility line relocation work this week.

Spring Hill Lake apartments started work on the second section recently. Three or four buildings are already under construction. April 1964 is the earliest that two-bedroom apartments will be available. However, apartments of other sizes will become available as the buildings are finished this fall and winter.

In 1962 he was manager of the Greenbelt Minor League team.

PHILLIPS

Phillips, present member of City Council, moved to Greenbelt in 1957, as an Air Force intelligence officer stationed at Ft. Meade. Upon his retirement on disability in 1958, he entered the insurance business as an agent later became a broker. Born in New Jersey in 1922, he attended public schools in Massachusetts and studied at Maryknoll Seminary and Boston College receiving a M.Ed. in guidance. In addition to his military and business experience, Phillips taught foreign languages and journalism for four years.

Phillips attends St. Hugh's Church and is a member of the Holy Name Society, Lions Club, American Legion, and Disabled American Veterans. His wife, Barbara, a former elementary school teacher, taught at the North End School. They have four daughters and three sons aged one to 12 years.

proper procedures set up by city ordinance in making use of the APB. He said that right at the start the developer should have been referred to the Advisory Planning Board to work out his site plan. The APB could then have come to the council either with a mutual agreement or a report that an impasse had been reached. It would then be in the hands of council. The chairman of the APB repeatedly declared that his body has had no contact with the developer for the past ten months.

Debate Planning Board Role

It was the role of the APB in advising the council as well as the calling of the executive session with Bresler without inviting the APB or the News Review that stirred up the greatest acrimony. Councilman Champion lit the fuse with a speech in which he charged that council was deliberately bypassing the APB, especially in matters involving Bresler developments. He asserted that council had kept the APB crippled in recent weeks by not filling the vacancy caused by the death of Charles Cormack and by not replacing Bernard Sisco whose work prevents him from attending meetings and who has asked to be relieved. (The APB has been unable to meet lately because it has lacked the required quorum of four.) "Why does the city bother with an Advisory Planning Board if it doesn't use it to the fullest extent?" he asked.

In answering Champion and Bernstein, Mayor White and Councilman Ben Goldfaden both argued that there had to be a limit to the participation of the APB. Once its recommendations on a matter had been made, that should end the APB's involvement in the matter. If the APB wants to be kept informed of further developments, Goldfaden declared, then it must maintain its own contact with the city manager. Matters could not be constantly referred back and forth from the council to the APB, Mayor White insisted. Bernstein, however, felt that in the Boxwood case a further referral was necessary because of the circumstances.

Champion also objected to Bresler's action in changing the name of the main street of the development from Boxwood Lane to Lastner Lane. (Frank Lastner, a prominent Greenbelt resident, is chairman of the Prince Georges County Commissioners.) Champion charged that Bresler had in mind his pending petition for commercial zoning for the Boxwood shopping center he is planning. Councilman Bill Phillips and other members of the council, however, felt it was an appropriate tribute to a man who has played such a prominent role in city and county affairs and did not feel it was improper.

Citizens Protest Haste

Other citizens present, including Mrs. Evelyn Feller, Miss Barbara Feller, Leo Gerton, and Mat Amberg, made statements to the effect that decisions on zoning and new developments were too critical to the future of Greenbelt to be made hastily. Every citizen should have a chance to be informed of what is happening and to express his opinion. Mayor White made the point that council members had heard from other citizens in this matter and noted that those who are in favor of an issue often do not appear at the meeting.

The mayor also expressed doubt that Park and Planning would delay its recommendation for the convenience of Greenbelt but that he was willing to make the attempt. It was upon the motion of Councilman Champion that it was agreed to ask the Park and Planning Commission to delay its recommendation to the County Commissioners until July 29 and to give full publicity to the special meeting through the News Review.

In Our Time

WHILE SCIENTIFIC ADVANCES OF THE TWENTIETH CENTURY DAZZLE THE IMAGINATION WE ARE LEARNING THAT THE MOST INCREDIBLE OF ALL CONTROL MECHANISMS IS IN THE HUMAN BODY...

MAN IS HELPING NATURE BY DEVISING MACHINES TO DRAW MOISTURE FROM THE SURROUNDING AIR.

TAKE FOR EXAMPLE THE MECHANISMS FOR MAINTAINING A NORMAL BALANCE FOR BODY TEMPERATURE OF 98.6°F., GIVE OR TAKE ONE DEGREE... EXERCISE MAKES THE HEART BEAT FASTER AND BODY TEMPERATURE RISES, BODY BEGINS TO PERSPIRE AND EVAPORATION LOWERS BODY TEMPERATURE. THUS THE BODY LOSES HEAT AS FAST AS IT IS PRODUCED.

THIS NATURAL MECHANISM IS THE INSPIRATION FOR TEMPERATURE CONTROLS BUILT INTO MODERN GE AIR CONDITIONERS... A SENSITIVE THERMOSTAT ACCURATELY MAINTAINS TEMPERATURE AT PRE-SET LEVEL.

HUMIDITY CONTROL IS ANOTHER FACTOR. ALL NEW GE AIR CONDITIONERS HAVE A HIGHLY EFFECTIVE DEHUMIDIFICATION SYSTEM WHICH VIRTUALLY WRINGS GALLONS OF WATER FROM HOT HUMID AIR.

The average American would save about $20,000 during his working years if he tucked away just a dime from every dollar he earned. If he bought and held U.S. Savings Bonds, he'd have close to $40,000.

When you save on Payroll Savings, you just sign your name once. From then on your payroll clerk sets aside whatever amount you wish each payday, buys your Bonds, and delivers them to you. Millions of Americans are buying $2 billion in Savings Bonds yearly this automatic way for new homes, furniture, education, etc. What's more, they hold their Bonds an average of 7 years—and find the waiting well worthwhile.

Almost double your money back

U.S. Savings Bonds are guaranteed to grow. $1 becomes $1.33

in 7½ years—and $1.93 in 10 more years. You can get your money with interest anytime you need it. And the Treasury Department replaces your Bonds free if they're lost or destroyed.

Job and PublicationLet's Go Fishin'BY BOB BREWSTEROutdoor Editor, Mercury Outboards

Some people will swear that bass fishermen are human. And perhaps they are. But not like the others that inhabit this planet, and not like any other creature that swims or crawls or walks or flies.

The typical bass fisherman is a quietly dedicated man who does not sing the praises of his sport so that all may hear and join. He would rather be left alone, to pursue fish in his own way, with no discordant notes to mar the perfection of the symphony he creates for himself. He has no use for crowds, hot streets or bright lights; to him Utopia is a quiet pond where 5-pound bass play leap-frog over the lily pads.

Take a bass fisherman along on a trout trip and he will enjoy himself. He will join the others and fish faithfully with fly rod and minute bits of hair and feathers, trying to lure a bull rainbow to creel. But after a couple or three days of this his eye will begin to dull and it is obvious his thoughts are wandering.

MORE DEDICATED

A few more days and he will be asking the fishing guides, "Know any places around here where a fellow might catch a bass?"

In many respects a bass fisherman is much more dedicated to his craft than a more highly-touted trout fisherman. For one thing he spends more for his fun. He buys mountains of bass lures at a buck to a buck and a half each, several reels, frequently an outboard motor made especially for a fisherman, like the lightweight Merc 60, a fishing boat, a new rod every year or two, and is always buying something — a landing net, minnow bucket, stringers, hooks, weights, waders, fishing vest, hats — and more lures.

He is quite alert to new ideas in the field, and is ever ready for further instruction. By droves he and his fellow fishermen have sent to the Kiekhaefer Corporation in Fond du Lac, Wis., for a booklet entitled "Fishing With an Outboard," so he may learn about some of the newer hints.

He is ever ready to listen to new ideas, to read new books, to buy fishing magazines and to read about others who have tried something that worked. He constantly experiments with barometric theories, solunar theories and various and sundry other ideas that sprout from time to time.

He's an odd duck. And perhaps even human.

Fun For Day Campers

by Jackie Hufendick

The seven campers of the Greenbelt Day Camp have hiked their way through two weeks of fun, adventure, and learning. In the first week of Day Camp the campers practiced new camping skills by pitching tents, building fires, tracking, and cooking two of their own meals. The campers surely benefited from their tracking skills because by following Indian trail signs, clues were found that led to a big watermelon feast. For their first trip away, the Day Camp went to Fort McHenry and saw the guns and dungeons of the historical fort.

The second week the campers felt close to the wonders of nature as they made leaf prints, crystal gardens, and took several nature field trips. The day campers went to the Aquatic Gardens, the Bird Sanctuary, the Aquarium, the Botanical Gardens, and Hains Point.

The third week of Day Camp will be spent making boats, model airplanes, and other projects in line with the theme of hobbies, sports, and culture. The campers will continue their cook-outs and end the three-week session with an all-day away trip.

Greenbelt Safety is Cited

Greenbelt was one of six Prince Georges County cities to be cited by the American Automobile Association in recognition of their efforts to save pedestrian lives in traffic. Greenbelt was presented with a Safety Achievement Award for no pedestrian deaths in 1962 and for reducing its injury rate. Other communities cited were Cheverly, College Park Hyattsville, Mount Rainier, and Seat Pleasant.

How to Beat the Heat

Whether its the heat or the humidity or both, it's hot in most of the United States in July. In some places it's hotter than others, but it's still hot.

After a month or so of sweating and steaming, it's not uncommon to find the heat is beginning to wear you down.

There's nothing you can do about the outside temperature. Unless you're fortunate enough to have air conditioning in your office or shop, home and auto, there's nothing much you can do about it inside either.

But there are some tips from the American Medical Association on things you can do to be more comfortable - things that can help you beat the heat.

Stay out of the sun as much as possible, especially during the middle of the day when rays are hottest. Wear light, loose clothing, the less the better. The ladies have an edge over the men in this respect. Drink more liquids than usual, but take extra salt only on your physician's advice, particularly if you have liver or kidney trouble or a heart condition.

Take a shower or a dip in the pool once or twice a day to cool off. Get plenty of rest and sleep. Eat your regular diet and don't go overboard on cold cuts, and salads, unless you like them anyway.

Get up early in the morning to do your heavy work on the lawn or garden. Or work at dusk in the evening, but try to avoid heavy exertion during the hottest hours of the day.

CRIME PREVENTION

It is recommended that auto owners take steps to identify certain auto accessories in order to claim them if they are lost. Such things as putting markings on hubcaps or recording serial numbers on tires are recommended. It is also helpful to be able to identify watches, radios, bicycles, television sets, etc. by recording serial numbers and identification marks.

Women are advised, when shopping, not to leave handbags and wallets in unattended shopping carts or on store counters.

To reduce thefts from autos, motorists are advised to put clothing, golf clubs, portable radios or anything of value in locked trunks or glove compartments.

The more relaxed outdoor life of the summer months has many advantages to compensate for the heat. Stay relaxed and use common sense, and you can beat the heat - at least somewhat.
